INTRODUCTION

The Unsworth Academy ethos is built on mutual respect. The behaviours and attitudes we expect our learners to display are built around the mind-set that teachers have the right to teach and learners have the right to learn.

We aim to develop each child so that they are instilled with the core principles and values laid out in our Code of Conduct which is known as 'The Unsworth Way'. In consultation with learners, staff and other stakeholders, The Unsworth Way has been developed "from the bottom up" and will not remain unchanged. With the growing focus on the voice of our stakeholders, we will ensure that it remains relevant and always meets the needs of the wider school community.

Learners who adhere to The Unsworth Way in the classroom, in other areas of the school and in the wider community are rewarded and praised for their efforts and are exemplified as role models. Bespoke reward systems are in place both at pastoral and curriculum levels, as well as for those who endeavor to go 'the extra mile' through taking part in enrichment activities.

Those learners who choose not to follow The Unsworth Way and all that it encompasses are, through appropriate sanctions, challenged to see the error of their ways. We believe that pastoral care is the responsibility of everyone. Each classroom teacher is required to follow up meticulously any instances where the values set out in The Unsworth Way are not adhered to and staff work hard to support each other in doing so. Consistency of approach is vital and school leaders support their teams to ensure that negative behaviours are challenged and appropriate interventions are made.

The Unsworth Way is displayed in every classroom, in the corridors and in the dining hall and staff regularly use it as a point of reference as a way to reinforce expectations. We would also expect that parents fully support the staff by insisting that their child follows the aims of The Unsworth Way and sign the home-school agreement, which can be found within their child's learner planner. Learners are also required to sign to say that they fully value and adhere to The Unsworth Way.

PURPOSE OF THIS POLICY

The purpose of the policy is to provide a simple, practical guide for staff, learners and parents, which outlines our approach to behaviour management within school, to and from school, on educational trips, visits and on work placements. We want all learners to feel safe, happy and motivated at school and therefore the policy explains how our staff:

- Recognise and reward positive behaviours
- Identify, challenge and aim to change negative behaviours
- Promote and respect positive attitudes to learning and embrace diversity

RECOGNITION OF POSITIVELY FOLLOWING THE UNSWORTH WAY AND GOING THE 'EXTRA MILE'

Rewards are used to motivate, increase self-esteem and confidence and to celebrate achievement, progress and effort. Through the whole-school use of SIMS achievement module, learners are instantly rewarded in lessons via a points system. Points are gained when a learner displays positive behaviours outlined in The Unsworth Way. Points are built up which are considered by the pastoral team for "stars and praise" assemblies, reward days and trips. In addition, Year 11 learners are motivated by the Opportunity to attend the school Prom during the Summer term.

Rewards are received within year groups through termly 'Stars and Praise Assemblies', which enable learners to gain recognition. Within these assemblies, learners also receive recognition for outstanding punctuality and attendance.

At department level, learners are celebrated through personalised rewards. Departments have their own systems for celebrating achievements, using prominent displays as well as praise postcards.

'Non-uniform' days are awarded to learners who ensure that they maintain high standards of appearance/dress throughout each half term and who have fewer than three signatures each term on their uniform card.

At the end of the academic year there is an Achievement and Celebration Assembly. Learners in each year group are nominated by their Progress leader to receive an 'Outstanding contribution' to school life award.

Sporting achievement is recognised and celebrated at an additional celebration event organised by the PE Department. Learners in Year 11 also have a formal celebration of GCSE success in the Autumn term after they complete their studies. The Inclusion Department hold an annual award ceremony to celebrate the achievements of learners that regularly work with or are supported by the department.

PROMOTING POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR TO SUPPORT THE UNSWORTH WAY

Staff should never ignore or attempt to excuse poor behaviour, however in many instances it is felt that negative behaviours and confrontation can be avoided. One of the most effective behaviour management strategies in schools has been shown to be Careful planning that prevents difficulties from arising in the first place. If a teacher promotes high expectations in terms of routine, attitude to learning and expected standard of work, then there will be no surprises to the learner when he or she is challenged. Learners prefer to learn in a relaxed yet purposeful atmosphere where adults are safely in control and where they can progress their learning. Learners will accept authority and respect adults if they feel valued. They are then able to build positive relationships with adults. It is important to bear in mind that routine in the home may not exist for some learners and that school is the only place where there are these sorts of consistent expectations.

Learners like routine:

Learners entering lessons across all department areas within school are greeted by the teacher as they enter the classroom in a calm, orderly manner and ensure that their equipment and planners are on the desk. Uniform and core standards should be checked in every lesson throughout the day (not just in 'form-time'). The teacher addresses the class and deems the learners ready to learn.

This sort of consistency from one classroom to the next reinforces expectations and therefore learners are less likely to deviate. Staff should ensure that they do not make unattainable demands or threats and that they follow up and carry out what they say will happen.

The power of language:

The way that staff communicate with learners is vital. The idea that you can 'make' or 'break' a relationship with a child by the way that you speak to them is something that staff are frequently reminded of. Through the explanation of consequences and the reasoning behind our decisions, learners are guided through the choices that they make. This enables learners to take more responsibility for their actions, increase their independence and manage their own behaviour. Staff should sometimes consider apologising to a learner if they make a mistake.

Planning and preparation:

Through the design and implementation of creative and challenging lessons with opportunities for success built in for all learners, learners are kept busy and are less likely to deviate 'off-task'. Knowing their 'customer' ensures teachers cater for all learners. The SEND/Inclusion registers and profiles for individuals are working documents, which provide detail about learners. It is the responsibility of the classroom teacher to provide Quality First teaching and each department has an SEN link staff member.

Consider the audience:

Reprimanding a learner in front of their peers will often result in further attention seeking behaviour as the learner tries to 'save face'. It is easy to get drawn in to an argument with a learner and this usually proves ineffective and promotes 'answering back'. Remaining calm and rational as the adult is extremely important

Use of praise:

Praise should be relative to learner ability and individual circumstance and an element of professional judgement should be employed. Staff should consider that for some learners, overcoming some sort of difficulty is praise-worthy. For some learners, making it into school on time is an achievement in itself. Learners who regularly follow The Unsworth Way impeccably and sometimes go unnoticed should also be praised and rewarded.

Consider the individual:

Whilst it is of utmost importance to maintain consistency of approach with regards to the procedures outlined within this policy, there may be circumstances where consideration should be given to the individual needs of the learner, for example where he/she is on the SEND register. In these cases, it would be appropriate to liaise with the Inclusion Department before imposing sanctions.

FORM TIME AND THE ROLE OF THE FORM MENTOR/ATTACHED STAFF TO SUPPORT LEARNERS AND THE AIMS OF UNSWORTH WAY

All teaching and support staff at Unsworth Academy are equally important in the provision of the behavioural and emotional development and support of our learners. Form mentors and attached staff in particular are put in place to scaffold and foster this development as the 'school parent' and are integral to the overall aims of the school.

Form mentors should, under the direction of progress leaders and with the support of pastoral managers ensure that the learners in their form group consistently start the school day in a calm and purposeful way. There is a well-structured programme of activities, which form mentors should use to add a competitive edge to form time. Forms can develop a strong, positive identity through engagement in enrichment activities, charity work and the promotion of outstanding attendance and punctuality.

As a guide and minimum expectation, form mentors and attached staff should ensure that:

- They make the utmost effort to build a positive relationship with their form and take interest in the individual learners within it.
- They make their way to their relevant form room immediately after staff briefings for form time.
- Uniform and conduct are checked as learners enter the form room and that any uniform infringements are challenged and sanctioned with uniform cards being signed.
- Learners stand behind chairs with equipment and planners on desks and remain standing until the class is deemed ready to sit down.
- Registers are completed accurately as a legal requirement. If a learner arrives in to the form room after 8.50am then the learner should be marked as 'Late' using the L code. Saving of the completed register should be done at the 9:05am bell as those coming in late but before 9am should still come to form.

After 9:05am learners sign in at the office.

- Learner equipment and planners are on desks.
- Learners should leave registration with pencil case containing a pen, pencil, ruler, planner and uniform card every day as a minimum and should be free of make-up, false nails, nail polish or jewellery and be wearing correct footwear.
- If necessary, learners will be asked to purchase equipment in form time. Sanctions for not having equipment/planner should be given and parents should be contacted for persistent offenders.
- The daily bulletin is shared with learners each day.
- Achievements of learners within their form are shared and celebrated
- Form representatives are in place and are utilised to update the form notice board regularly and help to monitor equipment.
- On assembly day they escort learners to assembly on time as soon as registers are completed, and they work as a team to facilitate the calm and orderly entrance to the assembly venue as well as remaining in the assembly venue as directed by the progress leader.
- They support the school Attendance Officer by using data provided to challenge poor attendance, contacting parents where necessary.

Overall, ensure learners leave form having been set up for a productive day at school.

There is a robust rewards system in place at Unsworth Academy built around the ACE System

USE OF CONSEQUENCES FOR BEHAVIOURS THAT DO NOT SUPPORT THE UNSWORTH WAY

For those learners who deviate from The Unsworth Way, a robust system of consequences is used.

At departmental level within the classroom, a staged approach to sanction/consequences for negative behaviours is used. Whilst an element of professional judgment is required, if at any point staff are unsure then they should ask for clarification by their HOD, Line manager or member or SLT. All meetings with students and parents will involve the use of individual student progress reports to focus on academic achievement which informs behavior. This ensures that the clear link between progress and behavior is highlighted.

Department Sanctions/Detentions

Blanket punishments i.e.: whole class detentions should not routinely be given. Detentions issued over lunch times must build in time for learners to get something to eat and make a toilet trip.

As a matter of courtesy, we would prefer that parents are given 24 hours' notice for an after-school detention, although same day after school detentions can be issued as long as parents have been informed. Staff are required to record all instances of unacceptable behaviour in SIMS along with the sanction given. All racist and homophobic remarks must be reported to SLT.

Pastoral Sanctions/Detentions

Immediate Break Detention	15 minutes
School Detention Pastoral Manager	30 minutes Tues/Weds/Thurs
2 or more lates in a week	Phone call home
Persistent lateness to lessons	Phone call home
Not following UW out of lessons	Isolation during break and lunchtimes

*enforce punishments on uniform cards: 2 signatures per week break detention; 4 signatures per week lunch detention; 6 signatures per week — after school detention.

Additional Behavioural Interventions

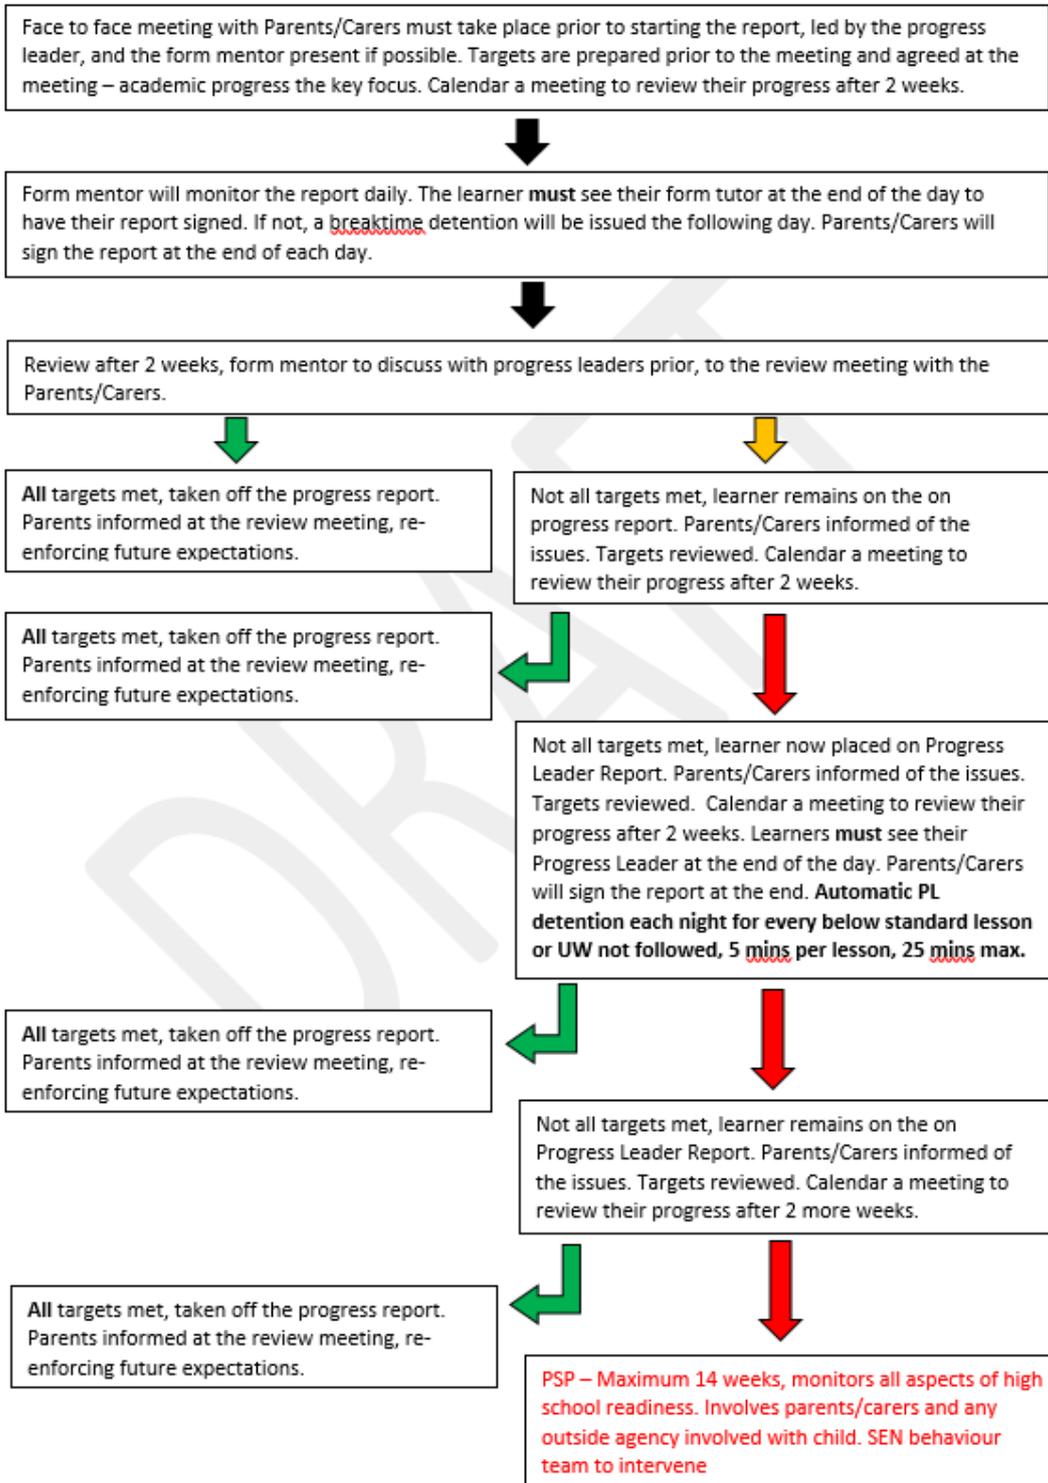

For the vast majority of learners at Unsworth Academy, the types of interventions below will never need to be made. However, for some learners, additional interventions are required in order to support the child, the staff and parents with their more challenging behaviour.

Progress Intervention Reports and PSP

Progress leaders track learners who are consistently failing to follow The Unsworth Way across multiple subject areas. Once the learner is identified, parents are contacted, and the learner may enter in to the reporting system. Despite a child being on report, class teachers should ensure that they continue to issue sanctions within their subject area for the learner. Departments should endeavor to monitor a disruptive learner with a department report rather than a whole school report if they are not causing an issue in other subject areas. Any intervention made should always be logged on SIMS.

Progress Reports - DRAFT

The following procedure should be followed;

If the learner continues to display extreme behaviours with no signs of improvement despite multiple additional interventions:

- PSP (Pastoral Support Plan) put in to place
- Up to 18 weeks/Reporting to Assistant Head teacher. Reviews /parent meetings occur regularly and may often tie in to the Early Help process (likely to include outside agency involvement).
- Failure to improve behaviour following in school interventions may require PPP at this stage (initially for 6 weeks) as a way to avoid permanent exclusion.
- Up to two PPPs may be attempted before referring to the LA for alternative provision.

It would be both difficult and inadvisable to give hard and fast procedures for dealing with inappropriate learner behaviour, as every situation is different. However, it is essential that as staff we are consistent in our response to inappropriate learner behaviour and that we use the whole school discipline procedures correctly.

To ensure that repeated inappropriate behaviour is dealt with in a correct and consistent manner, a weekly meeting is held and attended by pastoral staff, inclusion staff, attendance and safeguarding staff to discuss any issues that learners may have in school or at home to establish if additional monitoring or support is needed. This is referred to as the 'Team around the Child' or TAC.

Attendance monitoring

In order to promote outstanding attendance alongside rewards, the Attendance Officer will monitor attendance data and will disseminate data to Form mentors, Learner Support Officers and Progress leaders on a weekly basis. All interventions should be logged on Class Charts.

Yellow category: Learners with 96-93% attendance will be spoken to by their Form mentor to address underlying reasons.

Orange category: Learners dropping below 93% will be monitored by pastoral manager during Form Time. This will involve liaison with parents who will be invited in for a meeting if another absence occurs. 4-week target set and home-school agreement put in place.

If target fails, Attendance Officer will take learner on their caseload.

In addition, punctuality is monitored by pastoral managers who issue a 30-minute detention for any learner who receives two late marks in one week.

Internal exclusion room

The internal exclusion room is to be used as a one-day or half-day sanction for cases of:

Point blank refusal to follow instruction/rudeness to staff/ bullying (depending on individual case)/ open defiance against The Unsworth Way /walking off from staff and disruption of learning once removed within department. Only SLT/Progress Leader/Pastoral manager can isolate learners in the Internal Exclusion Room. Staff should consider alternative outcomes before isolating learners such as removal within the department and allowing a learner to calm down before automatically requesting referral to IE (obviously within reason).

Expectations within the room are tight and the following procedure is to be followed:

- 1) Member of staff who had the original issue with the child must inform parents via phone- call that day.
- 2) Learner must hand over their mobile phone (to be placed in box provided).
- 3) All isolated learners will receive an exercise book (to be stored in the room). They need to set out work properly by putting the date and 'IW' (Isolation Work) in the margin.

The first thing learners must do is complete a reflection sheet before starting work on specified activities. Learners must remain in silence and not communicate with anyone else.

Dictionaries and booklets of work are available for learners of varying ability. Learners should not write in booklets- they should write the title of the booklet/activity and the period at the top in their isolation exercise book. They should work through booklets methodically/in order (not skipping activities)

Learners will use the toilet closest to the room at prescribed times during the day.

Ten minutes before the lunch bell the member of staff will escort learners to dining hall where they will purchase lunch and then return to the IE room. Staff on lunch duty will then take over the supervision.

At the end of the day staff should ensure work booklets and exercise books/equipment are stored correctly.

Exclusion

The vast majority of behaviour is managed in school however on occasion a learner may be required to leave the premises. In cases where s/he refuses to leave, an appropriate staff member will contact parents and, if necessary, other agencies such as social care and/or police.

There are a number of more serious behaviours that prevent learners from doing well and could result in a fixed term exclusion, or in extreme cases a permanent exclusion by the Head teacher. These include:

- Verbal or physical abuse of staff Bullying-physical, verbal, emotional Sexual harassment of any kind
- Prejudice on grounds of race, age, gender, sexuality, disability, and others

- Carrying an offensive weapon
- Use or sale of alcohol or other mood-changing drugs
- Deliberate damage or theft of property
- Smoking (or use / possession of an electronic cigarette) in or around the building
- Refusing to leave the premises when asked
- Gambling

A learner may be issued with a fixed term exclusion of usually no longer than 5 days at a time and should not have more than 45 school days of exclusion in any one academic year. At the point of exclusion, work will be set via 'Show my homework' and parents will be informed.

On return to school, learners may not be permitted to attend their lessons until a reintegration meeting has been held with parents and a member of SLT or the Progress leader. The reintegration pro-forma should be completed at this meeting and recorded on SIMS (see Appendix item 1). Some learners will be referred to the behavior intervention team in the SEN department in order to address some of the underlying causes of the exclusion.

Permanent exclusion may occur when a learner has been involved in instigating or displaying extreme behaviour, or behaviour that could be considered extremely dangerous towards others. This could be an extreme one-off incident or could follow a string of instances.

CONFISCATION OF INAPPROPRIATE ITEMS

Staff have the right to ask learners to allow them to search them for any item not allowed under the school rules and then to search them and their possessions. Members of SLT, Progress leaders and subject teachers have the statutory right to search learners for their possessions without consent where they suspect a learner has prohibited items e.g. knives, alcohol, illegal drugs, stolen items, weapons and any other item which has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property. School staff can confiscate any item found as a result of the search, which they may consider harmful or detrimental to school discipline. This is a personal search and not an intimate search.

There must always be reasonable grounds to carry out a search. When searching a learner two members of staff must be present and the one carrying out the search must be the same gender as the learner being searched. When searching learner possessions, the learner must be present and must be informed why the search is being carried out. A search may take place on the school premises or where the member of staff has lawful control of the learner e.g. on an educational visit. Parents/Carers must be informed that a search has been carried out.

If a learner refuses to allow a member of staff to carry out the search of their person or possessions, they will be isolated and supervised until parents have been contacted and come to the school. The parent/carer then will be asked to carry out or witness the search. No learner will be allowed to attend his/her lesson until the search has been carried out.

A member of staff may confiscate or retain learner property as and when reasonable to do so. Parents/carers will be informed when items are to be confiscated. Weapons, stolen goods and controlled drugs must be passed to the police. Alcohol will be disposed of. Goods brought in for trading (e.g. chocolate, energy drinks) will be returned at the end of the academic year.

E-cigarettes, cigarettes and lighters may only be collected by parents/carers.

If a learner has been using their mobile phone during learning time, their phone will be logged and stored in the main office and a parent will be required to collect it. Should a child feel they need to contact a parent they must make their way to the relevant pastoral office to ask permission to use the telephone in the office.

Confiscated jewellery items will be logged in the main office and may be collected from the main office at the end of the day (staff should ensure uniform cards are signed). Complaints about searches will be dealt with through the school's complaints procedure.

USE OF FORCE TO CONTROL AND RESTRAIN

This should not be used unless there is immediate danger of injury. Specified staff in school are trained in Team Teach and it is recommended that these staff members are called upon to assist where needed.

COMMUNICATION WITH PARENTS AND CARERS

At Unsworth Academy, we pride ourselves in maintaining positive relationships with parents and carers. In general, parents who are kept fully informed by staff about incidents or negative behaviours in school, rather than being informed incorrectly of events by their child are much more amenable and easier to work with. Often when a parent appears angry (either in person or on the phone) it is because they have not been fully informed of the situation that has occurred.

Whilst the use of text, email, notes in learner planners and SchoolComms are often extremely effective ways of communicating with parents, staff should ensure that they endeavor to communicate verbally where possible in relation to negative behaviours. If an incident has taken place during the day, staff should make a phone call to parents and as a minimum expectation leave a voicemail before they leave school that day. This will usually ensure that incidents do not carry over in to the next day, potentially making them worse. Parents should be encouraged to make an appointment if they wish to speak to a member of SLT/teaching staff in person as it cannot be guaranteed that the member of staff will be available, which could cause a parent to be irritated further.

It is important to remember also that parents enjoy receiving positive comments about their child's achievements at school.

The school website features useful information for parents and may answer many questions relating to the day-to-day running of the school.

Appendix 8

The following is an addendum for this policy for use when low learner number, socially distanced, face-to-face schooling is necessitated.

In these circumstances, the procedures below supersede those of the main policy.

In addition to the Unsworth Way, to fully protect our community, all learners should -

- When you arrive at school, line up 2 metres apart. A member of staff will tell you when to enter and wash your hands
- Follow instructions on hygiene and frequent handwashing
- ONLY move around school according to the new one way system
- Remember “catch it, bin it, kill it” if you cough or sneeze and avoid touching your face
- Maintain social distance when waiting to enter a classroom
- Keep bags and coats with you by your seat
- Listen carefully to the teacher’s instructions regarding seating plans to maintain social distance throughout the lesson
- Ensure equipment is NOT shared with or borrowed from other learners
- Only move from you allocated place in the classroom when instructed to do so by your teacher

Appendix 9

- Please remain 2 metres (3 steps) apart at all times
 - Enter the room one at a time. Leave the room one at a time, as per teacher's instructions.

- No sharing of equipment
Only use your own pens, rulers etc.

- Please wash your hands regularly and thoroughly using soap and water.
- Only one person at a time to use the toilets.
